Realtor/Broker HIGHLIGHT

Scott Robertson

Hatteras

MarineMax, the nation's largest boating and yachting retailer, is pleased to announce that Scott Robertson, based at MarineMax in Clearwater, was named Hatteras Salesperson of the Year for his successful performance in 2006. When presenting the award to Scott Robertson at the Ft. Lauderdale Boat Show in October, Jan Boone, vice president of sales at Hatteras commended Scott Robertson on his consistent effort, successful sales and dedication to ensuring that his clients are happy with their sales, service and ownership experience. "Scott has done an unbelievable job in a market where the product is a 'want' versus a 'need', which makes this award even more exciting and incredible. Our gratitude for what he does is unsurpassed," said Boone.

Scott Robertson joined MarineMax in 1992, a 14 year Team Member, and has dedicated his profession to providing an excellent sales and service experience to his customers. His efforts and enthusiasm have earned him several top MarineMax sales awards.

Liz Buiani

RE/MAX Partners

Dedication, impeccable service, product knowledge, and listening to her clients' specific needs have made Liz Buiani's real estate career a success since 1979. Liz's clients range from multi-million dollar investors to first time buyers in the tri-county area of Broward, Dade and the Palm Beaches. Whether selling a $9 million oceanfront home in Hillsboro Beach to showing the soaring views from a penthouse unit at The Points of America, Liz will provide the outstanding and exemplary customer service across the board. Her repeat and referral business is the cornerstone of her success. Liz's work ethic is reflected in her motto, "My work does not end at the closing but just begins." Her rolodex is always at her fingertips to assist, consult, and provide services for her clients in fields such as taxation, international law, general contracting, and design services. Liz uses the internet as a buying and selling tool, and to educate her clients. Her rich knowledge of geographic history, marketing trends, and the internet has been an asset to making her clients feel informed with every aspect of their real estate transactions. Her website www.thebuianigroup.com is a wonderful information source for past, present, and future clients.

A visionary boater sees convenience as luxury Eloquence on the Bay

Imagine docking the boat in your backyard, ripping the benefits of a private marina at reasonable costs, and cruising less than 10 minutes to reach the exit from the intercostals to the ocean. That's what makes Eloquence on the Bay the perfect sanctuary for boat lovers.

Amidst incredible surroundings and destinations, Eloquence on the Bay, a head turning development in the secluded islands of North Bay Village in Miami, offers a twenty two slip serviced marina and easy access to a wealth of activities such as sailing, scuba-diving, and even world-class fishing.

This waterfront residential retreat is a 20-story masterpiece of refined understatement composed of a mere 120 residences of the most astonishing beauty and style.

With its own private marina, a tennis court, luxurious pool deck, and fitness club, Eloquence on the Bay features the best of waterfront living. Don't Explain! Say it with Eloquence!

Chris Casparis

Sea Sonic

For Chris Casparis, the Sea Sonic Boat Company is where tradition meets technology and creativity blends with functionality. It is where boat-building artisans design and construct seaworthy vessels that exude classic elegance and grace, along with extreme power and performance well beyond the norm. Casparis is the owner and inspiration behind Sea Sonic Boats. Over the years, this designer and expert boat builder has made his mark on the industry, becoming recognized for his style and securing multiple awards for his models of excellence.

Casparis has a long list of boats he has restored, including numerous yachts and cabin cruisers. "Boat building is not just a business," Casparis explained. "It is a passion that grows from year to year. While I am prone to think modern, I also retain the most precious traditional aspects of wooden boats in my designs. Ultimately, Sea Sonic Boats are built, beautified and finished with precision and perfection as the ideal." Clients of Sea Sonic Boats have come to recognize the distinct personalities of the firm's vessels. They also appreciate and admire the sleek lines, elegance and strength. Solid mahogany covers multi-layered marine plywood, which is reinforced with carbon Kevlar on a solid mahogany frame. Unlike traditional wooden boats made of planks that tend to shrink and expand, Sea Sonic Boats are durable and are guaranteed to be watertight, weather and saltwater resistant and nearly maintenance free. "I stand behind the design and construction of Sea Sonic Boats because their stability, performance and maneuverability at high speeds have been proven through time," noted Casparis. "But with all the technology and the craftsmanship I incorporate into my boats, I truly consider the needs and the wants of the clients when designing and building boats. In the end, their satisfaction is what matters most." For more information, visit <http://www.seasonicboats.com> or call 250-540-3666
